Dear reader,

I am writing in response to the advertisement posted for Software engineering internship with your company. I have 2+ years of development experience. Being a software engineer with expert knowledge in C++, Python, HTML & CSS, SQL, Javascript, Swift, Django and Java. I am confident in my abilities and potential to work on scale projects at your company.

My strengths are in:

Software Development: I developed software for multiple clients in various environments using frameworks and libraries from Python, behind Android, iOS development and full-stack web development projects. I also have a knack for prototype design, product management and keen passion to become an expert in data science, database, AI and machine learning projects.

Project Management: I have provided successful technical direction to drive projects from design to deployment. I have a strong desire to learn new things and build around people in the tech industry.

Communication Skills: I can communicate with technical and non-technical employees in order to complete projects and achieve organizational goals. By having a keen knowledge and understanding over technical skills, I can possess an agile leadership and management ability in the highly competitive tech industry.

Overall, my knowledge as a programmer and my passion for new technologies makes me the ideal candidate to meet your development needs in your company. I'd be glad to discuss my abilities and background in more detail. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Looking Forward,

Mohammed Hasanul Abedin Rafi
